The Day of Small Things

When I came to Epiphany seventeen years ago, we had a building, a congregation and a future like any other church. There was no 9/11, no denominational wars, lawsuits or internal conflicts. There were years of “normal” church life.

Epiphany is a very different place in 2014. We are smaller, we lease a building to worship in and we have a smaller support staff. What’s grown bigger is our faith and trust in God. We’ve seen our Lord take us out of slavery to a denomination that we could no longer live under, deliver us by ransoming us with a half million dollars raised through us in a few weeks and set us on a journey not knowing where our new home would be. We worshiped in hotels, park pavilions and an office condo. Every place we’ve gone, God has been our home, our joy and our rock to stand on. I’ve seen Epiphany become a place of deeper devotion to prayer and worship. We’ve become a joyful family of grandparents, aunts, uncles, mothers and fathers with beautiful happy children running around us!

What’s next? That depends largely on whom we look to. If we are focused on God, He will plant His mustard seeds in and around us to grow and produce the fruit He intends for us. It is instinctive for things and people to grow in the right environment. What kind of “greenhouse” is God wanting us to envision for the future of Epiphany in Herndon? That’s the exciting direction He will show this congregation. He will lead through priests, lay people, children and ordinary Christians to do extraordinary things. If we do it right, we won’t even notice ourselves- it will be the Master Gardener’s work and we will rejoice in it.

There was a day of rebuilding for Israel after its destruction. People thought the building would never come to anything- starting from nothing seemed so overwhelming that they were discouraged in the day of small things. It was hard work setting a foundation, making sure the construction was plumb the angles square. All the preparation was a day of small things. The Old Testament book of Zechariah tells us:

“Zerubbabel is the one who laid the foundation of this Temple, and he will complete it. Then you will know that the Lord of Heaven’s Armies has sent me. Do not despise these small beginnings, for the Lord rejoices to see the work begin, to see the plumb line in Zerubbabel’s hand.” Zechariah 4:9-11 (NLT)

God delights to see a new beginning because it is a demonstration of reliance on HIM and not us. He loves to see His little ones trust unreservedly in Him. Do not fear to be mustard seeds in God’s garden of Epiphany. God loves this place and loves the people living around us in Herndon. That’s why He sent Jesus to live, die and rise from the grave for the salvation of the world.

God bless you as you continue the journey. Rejoice- God has a plan and the plan is in place.

INTRODUCTION

Two thousand years ago in Israel, the man who is God incarnate, Jesus of Nazareth, led his followers into a life-giving relationship with himself and his divine Father, and was executed for being a revolutionary. Risen from the dead, he charged his followers to make disciples throughout the whole world, promising that he would be with them and equipping them for their mission with his Holy Spirit. The New Testament presents the essential witness and teaching of Jesus’ first emissaries, the Apostles, who proclaimed his truth with his authority. The faith of Christians today, as in every age, is shaped and defined by this apostolic account of Jesus Christ.

Within a century of Jesus’ earthly ministry, Christian congregations could be found from Spain to Persia, and from North Africa to Britain. By this time, the catechumenate for would-be Christians (from the Greek katecheo: “to instruct” – a period of 1-3 years’ instruction leading to baptism at Easter) had become established Christian practice. This pattern of Christian disciple-making continued for some centuries before falling into disuse, as nominal Christianity increasingly became a universal aspect of Western culture.

Praying for a Son

For about a week now, a father has been coming around 11 am every day to pray in our chapel at Epiphany. He is visiting his son in the United States on a two-month tourist visa. Though communication has been a bit of an adventure, it's clear his son is very sick, and he is very worried for him.

The communication barrier being what it is, I don't really know beyond a general region of the world where this father is from. I can't pronounce his name. I don't know if he is a Christian. I don't really understand what is wrong with his son. I have no idea how he found us and where he found the courage to walk into a church in a strange country looking for a place to pray.

But, he is here. I see this father's faith every day in our chapel.

I have to say I am impressed, and challenged. This father is, whether he knows it or not, taking Jesus' parable in Luke 18 seriously. You probably remember the story. Jesus says we "ought always to pray and not lose heart" (18.1). He then tells the story of a widow who constantly and consistently demands vindication from a judge, and ultimately receives it simply because she refuses to go away. Jesus says God listens to us when we pray even better than that. "And will not God vindicate his elect, who cry to him day and night? Will he delay long over them? I tell you, he will vindicate them speedily" (18.7-8).

There are things in my life I have been praying about for a long time. Sometimes I get discouraged because I haven't seen God answer those prayers in the way that I would like. Maybe you have experienced the same thing in your life.

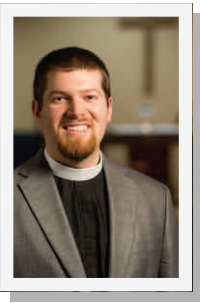

If you have felt this, it's time to pick yourself up, dust yourself off, and get back on your knees before God. Come to church and pray here if it helps, we're open for this kind of thing.

We cannot force God to do what we want. But we can ask. In fact, Luke 18 encourages us to ask, again and again. We "ought always pray and not lose heart." Are we willing to do it? Are we willing to take God as seriously as the father who has been visiting Epiphany every morning for the last week to pray for his son?

God bless,

Thy Kingdom Come

“Thy Kingdom Come”—That was the theme of the Anglican Church in North America’s Provincial Assembly, which took place June 25-28 in Latrobe, PA. I had the privilege of attending the Assembly this year, representing our diocese as one of the Clergy Delegates. Laity and Clergy from all over the US and Canada as well as many international guests from places like Nigeria, Kenya, Uganda, South East Asia, and Australia gathered for worship, prayer, fellowship, and mutual encouragement as we focused on moving the ACNA out in its God-given mission of “Reaching North America with the transforming love of Jesus Christ.”

I came away from Provincial Assembly so excited for the mission of the church! I love the fact that the ACNA has stated in its Constitution that the Provincial Assembly will always be essentially a missions conference. Of course, there is business that needs to be done, but the main focus of the massive gathering of leaders from all over North America is always on the mission of the church and advancing God’s kingdom. The overwhelming emphasis on mission (evangelism and discipleship) makes me proud to be part of the ACNA. This is a branch of the church that I am thrilled to be a small part of.

At the Assembly, we had the opportunity to hear regularly about what God is doing in and through the Anglican Church in North America as well as around the world. We heard from Archbishop Kwashi from Nigeria about the way God is advancing his kingdom there. We heard from numerous church planters around the US and Canada about what God is doing through the work of church planting. We were encouraged by Gary Haugen, the founder of the International Justice Mission (IJM), to be churches that refuse to stay safe but rather “get in trouble” by standing with those in trouble. We heard from J.I. Packer who challenged the church to take seriously our need to adequately disciple and train our members.

From the Summer Intern

Greetings, Epiphany! I've only been the summer intern for a few weeks now, but what a great few weeks those have been! One of the most exciting opportunities I've had is leading the Girls' Bible Study on Saturdays. We're currently using Jim Candy's book, Can I Ask That? And a whole lot of scripture to guide us through tough questions such as "Can I Trust the Bible," "Does the Bible Contradict Itself," and "Can I be a Christian and Believe in Evolution?" Discussing such relevant issues with the girls and watching them grow in their faith through study and fellowship has been an absolute blessing. Beyond this phenomenal bible study, I have also been working on a few other projects, such as researching the biblical origin of the morning prayer service's liturgy and helping prepare for our summer sports camp. With these amazing first few weeks, I can't wait to see what the rest of the summer has in store!

There's No Place Like Home

The seminar "There's No Place Like Home" is to be held at 9:30 AM, Saturday, August 9, at the Church of Epiphany. The presenters, Pat Williams of Graceful Care and Woody McMahon, an Older Adult Exercise Specialist of Sequoia Health and Fitness will discuss how we (or family and friends) might live longer in our own homes and what planning we might do now. There is no charge; but please sign up. Coffee and light snacks will be served.

FY2014 Financial Report

FINANCIAL REPORT

FISCAL YEAR 2014

(JULY 1, 2013 – JUNE 30, 2014)

Summary

This was a challenging fiscal year. Income from offerings and gifts was much less than the year before, particularly during the fall of 2013. The budget was reduced twice to reduce expenses. These reductions, coupled with stronger giving from the congregation in the second half of the fiscal year, enabled us to end the fiscal year in a sound financial position.

The annual stewardship campaign for FY2014 was completed in the late Spring of 2013. We received 96 pledges totaling $733,994. Based on historical patterns the pledges received would support an operating budget of about $900,000. However, giving for the prior year (FY2013)

Church of the Epiphany Anglican

was $1,014, 849. Therefore, based on expertise and recent giving, the Vestry approved a budget of $1,003,823.

By the end of September the Vestry concluded that giving was not sufficient to support the approved budget and in October voted to reduce the budget to $975,192. As giving continued to lag in October and November, a further reduction was made in January to $945,192. A significant part of this reduction was not replacing the executive assistant to the rector, Anne Bracy, when she retired.

On the positive side, a tremendous end-of-year giving in December substantially eliminated much of the deficit accumulated through November. And with the reduced budget, the giving for the last half of the year covered monthly expenses.

The final result was a minor deficit of $4396 (less than 0.5% of the budget)

Shown below is a table of monthly income and expenses by major category for FY2014.

FY2014 Financial Report

ACTUAL EXPENDITURES VERSUS BUDGET

The following table contains the original budget, the reduced budgets and actual expenditures.

The October Budget included an increase of $23,600 in Personnel due to a much larger than expected increase in rates for staff Medical Insurance. The original budget assumed an 11% increase; the actual increase was 19%. Substantial reductions were made by: eliminating almost all Vestry projects, eliminating all but $1,000 in Reserve, and reducing Worship, Outreach, Discipleship, Congregation Care and Church Operations. The result was an October budget reduction of $28,681.

By December it was determined that additional reduction of $30,000 was necessary to ensure Epiphany's financial soundness. The second reduction was implemented in January. The January Budget included minor increases in Church Operations and Finance and Legal to reflect known expenditures. The large reduction in Personnel was due to the decision to eliminate the Executive Assistant to Rector position.

As can be seen in the final results, the budget reductions were effective and brought overall spending in line with income for the remainder of the fiscal year.

EXPLANATIONS

These are the major reasons for variance of expenditures from the January Budget for each category.

WORSHIP

The net cost for altar flowers was less than anticipated because more costs were paid for by parishioner payments than anticipated.

Music expenses were less because some costs were offset by special contributions. Funds budgeted for praise band were not needed.

OUTREACH

Mission trips were funded by special gifts and budgeted funds were not required. Expenses for Hot Meals were less than budgeted.

DISCIPLESHIP

Youth and Children's expenses were less than anticipated. Nursery expenses were lower than anticipated. These were accomplished by finding low cost ways to run these programs.

CONGREGATION CARE

Benevolence Funds for emergency financial assistance were not needed

CHURCH OPERATIONS

Advertising and Copying expenses were higher than expected.

VESTRY

Money designated for special Vestry initiatives was not used.

FINANCE & LEGAL

Legal fees for negotiations regarding parking were larger than expected. Steps have been taken to reduce ongoing legal costs.

To Be a Christian: An Anglican Catechism

The Anglican Church in North America is pleased to announce the release of To Be a Christian: An Anglican Catechism produced by the provincial Catechesis Task force.

Led by the Rev. Dr J.I. Packer, the Task Force has developed a unique and powerful resource for helping inquirers come to an understanding of the Christian faith, and for helping disciples deepen their relationship with God. Written in a “Question and Answer” format, this Catechism, in the words of Packer, “is designed as a resource manual for the renewal of Anglican catechetical practice. It presents the essential building blocks of classic catechetical instruction: the Apostles’ Creed, the Lord’s Prayer, and the Ten Commandments (the Decalogue). To these is added an initial section especially intended for those with no prior knowledge of the Gospel; as such, this catechism attempts to be a missional means by which God may bring about both conversion to Christ and formation in Christ.”

The Most Reverend Robert Duncan, Archbishop of the Anglican Church in North America, noted the global impact of this work: “This Catechism assumes a post-Christian world where the basic foundations of the faith cannot simply be assumed. It begins by outlining the faith for those who have no Christian background, or were never fully disciplined. This production is a landmark offering, both for North Americans and for the whole Anglican world. Our Christian brothers and sisters from other provinces who saw advanced copies have enthusiastically begun translating the Catechism into their native languages. So far we know of translation work in Spanish, Mandarin, Farsi, and Urdu. We are excited to see this work expand in the days ahead.”

The Catechism is available for purchase from Amazon. It is now available here for non-commercial use in PDF and Microsoft Word format.

This article, originally published online several months ago, is reprinted (with permission) from the ACNA Website. The Catechism can be downloaded in various formats and versions. Just follow the link at the end of the article. It can also be purchased now too. It is available at Amazon.com, bound in bonded leather. An excerpt from the Catechism is found on page 2.

BACKPACKS AGAIN!

Please help make it happen

Yea! School is out and summer vacations are in. Well at least that's the way it is for kids who are lucky enough to be in families who can afford vacations. And sure...before you know it...school will be back in again and those same kids whose parents can't afford vacations, also can't afford to provide their children with backpacks and school supplies.

Epiphany and other local churches are partnering with WFCM (Western Fairfax Christian Ministries) to collect backpacks. There are other non-profits and Fairfax County businesses collecting the school supplies. This is a coordinated effort designed to assist students who are on free or reduced lunch programs and to make sure that they receive the backpacks and school supplies necessary to start the new school year.

We have committed to collect 50 backpacks but with God's help, we will be able to make it to the full 75 they actually need and had asked for...and maybe more. The drive is already underway and will continue through Sunday, August 17th. The collected backpacks must be delivered to the school by the DEADLINE, Monday August 18th.

Hints from the County program coordinator for middle school needs are listed below:

- Backpacks of 18-19 inches or larger with at least 2 zippered compartments.
- Unisex colors and patterns preferable.
- Some places to purchase the backpacks are as follows...be on the lookout for sales!
  - Costco (RipRap bag for $18.99 was recommended by WFCM...just no juvenile prints.
  - Target and Kohls usually have good prices as well.
  - You can also check out Amazon.com or Overstock.com.
  - And don't forget the great Walmart!

Epiphany has been there to help school children in need through this program for many years now. I am confident that God will help us find a way to be there for them again this year.

If you don't have the time to shop, you can either give a check to me or to Janice Monaghan, or put one in the collection plate on Sundays, payable to Church of the Epiphany and marked "for backpacks". I will gladly do the shopping for you and all your contributions are tax deductible.

THANK YOU SO MUCH and GOD BLESS YOU. If you have any questions, please call me.
